

2.6.2. Attainment of Programme outcomes and course outcomes are evaluated by the institution.

The College has adopted the two-path system of Direct and Indirect Methods to evaluate the PO-CO attainment of every student in the different departments.

1. Direct Method of Assessing Course Outcomes (80% weightage): This parameter includes the marks obtained in the University Examination, in which the students' performances in all the courses across the programmes can be observed and justly evaluated.
2. The Indirect Method of Assessing Course Outcome (20% weightage): The method involves the practice of conducting continuous evaluation processes through class tests, class activities, quizzes, drama presentations, and laboratory work, among many other ways, evaluate the student's understanding of the various aspects of the course and programme.

The PO-CO attainment scores of students from various departments are as follows:
